CHICAGO'S GREATEST DAY.

ABOUT 700,000 PROPLE CROWD INTO JACKSON PARK.

Thousands Slept In the Open Air the Night Before-100,000 People at One Time Awaiting Transportation to the Fair Grounds-A Perfect Day for the City's Great Blow-out-Music, Pagennts, and Fireworks on a Big Scale—It Was Early This Morning Before All the Crowd Got Home - A Check for $1,565,816 Wipes Out the Last of the Bonded Debt.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.-After the day's final shift of ticket sellers and takers at 5 o'clock this afternoon, Superintendent Tucker of the Department of Admissions estimated that 580,000 persons had paid fifty cents each to enter the World's Fair grounds to-day. If this guess was anywhere near the correct figure, the total for Chicago day, the climax of all the Columbian Exposition successes, was considerably over 600,000 paid admissions. It is certain that the 397,150 paid attendance at one day of the Paris show was far surpassed by the magnificent outpouring here to-day.

The crowd began to flow into the city on Saturday, and continued without cessation yesterday and last night. Unable to find lodgings, thousands slept in doorways and in the station houses during the night, and other thousands camped out under the domes and turrets of the White City. The hotels were packed, and the facilities for handling a crowd were taxed to the utmost. It was surely a terrible throng that stormed the World's Fair to-day, and it began moving toward the goal in Jackson Park early in the day. The gates opened at 8:30 o'clock. At that hour several thousand people had crossed the Van Buren street viaduct. An hour later the streets opening into Michigan avenue began to pour out their human freight. The inland streets were brooks that joined the stream at the lake front. There the streams merged into rivers and great surging masses and multitudes started for the Fair.

The Illinois Central ran three-minute trains, the elevated road looked like a single, endless train from Congress street to the grounds. Cable cars carried people on the roofs, and vehicles from the tally-ho to the lumber wagon made an endless procession down the boulevards, while thousands of persons walked all the way out as a matter of necessity.

The beavens were in radiant peace. The sky was clear. It was a day that man alone might mar, and man was too joyous and loyal to Chicago. The air was soft and cool, and altogether the elements were perfectly in harmony for a perfect celebration of a great day.

When the Exposition gates opened at 6:30 A. M. at least 15,000 persons were waiting for the turnstiles to begin pusiness. At 11 o'clock Treasurer Seeberger estimated that 300,000 visitors had passed into the park, and at that time the advancing crowds were thicker than

At noon the day's celebration began. Then the great plazas east and west of the Administration building were living masses of humanity, which cheered and shouted when the cannon of Battery D thundered from north, south, east, and west their salute to the nations. Asilence fell on the multitude when the "Heralds of Peace." attired in their gaudy costumes, began their fanfare of peace. These were stationed on the Peristple, Administration building, Manufactures building. and Agricultural building. All turned toward the Goddess of Liberty, and played on their brazen instruments "Peace on Earth.

Good Will to Men." On the pletform on the west plaza 2,000 roices sang "The Star-spangled Banner," and the multitude took up the refrain and the harmony mounted to the heavens. It was beyond all description magnificent. Each singer waved a flag in unison with the music.

Following this great burst of song the united bands of the Exposition joined in playing the music of the Southern States, and the chorus. orchestra, and band joined in "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

A notable feature was the ringing of the new liberty bell at noon by Mayor Harrison, accompanied by a blare of trumpets and crash of drums by the united bands. The chorus sang "Die Wacht am Rhein." "Marseillaise." the Austrian hymn, the Russian hymn, the "Starspangled Banner." and other national and patriotic hymns.

At the same time thousands of people crowded the stock pavilion to witness the exhibition drill of the Chicago Hussars, who entered by the Midway and paraded around the

If the morning festivities were grand those of the afternoon outdid them. Visitors had been pouring in continuously, and by 2 o'clock fully 400,000 people were gathered in the grounds. The plaza facing the Court of Honor was black with spectators. The Reunion of States was the spectacle which they had assembled to witness. As the States passed in review around the Court of Honor, represented by 3,000 school children, cheer after cheer attested the gratification of the vast audience The review was divided into five sections. The first was led by a chorus of 100 boys from the diocesan choir, followed by 34 youths, one selected from each ward of the city, bearing a seted from each ward of the city, bearing a shield with the word "Welcome" inscribed upon it, representing the metropolis of Illinois. Then came thirteen young ladies representing the original states. A company of twenty-four boys dressed in the Continental uniform contrasted pleasantly. Then followed the blates of the Union, the six principal cities of each State represented by maidens bearing genants. The States were in the order of their admission to the Union.

As State after State passed in review the cheering was loud and long. The affair lasted until late in the afternoon.

FAILURE OF CANDA & KANE.

Unable to Make Collections - Liabilities About $500,000; Assets Much Larger, Canda & Kane, dealers in building material at 043 to 647 West Fifty-second street, failed yesterday and made a general assignment to Matthew Baird, the contracter. The partners are John M. Canda and John P. Kane. They preferred confidential debts -borrowed money and notes -- to the amount of $67,300, as follows: National City Bank of Brooklyn, $20,-000; John Totten, $11,700, List & Lennon, $8,888; New York Cement Company, $6,000 Nineteenth Ward Bank, $5,212; Henry C. Peters, $5,000; John Paye, $5,000; John J. Jova, $5,000; Carrie S. Kennedy, $500.

The firm have five yards in this city, at the toot of West Fifty-second street, West Ninetysixth street, Horatio street, East Fourteenth street, and East 122d street, and two in Brooklyn. They did a very large business. The amount last year, it is said, was $2,250,-000, but this year business has fallen off considerably. The volume of business has been regarded generally as very large for considerably. The volume of business has been regarded generally as very large for the firm's capital, which it is reported was about $300,000. Mr. Canda was a few years ago reputed to be worth over $300,000 outside of the business, chiefly in real estate. They had the reputation of doing their business, chiefly in real estate. They had the reputation of doing their business entirely with notes giving them for all their purchases, and they have always met them at maturity up to the present time. About a month ago it is said the firm called together five of their principal creditors, to whom they owed $80,000, and asked them to extend the notes coming due. The creditors granted the extension, the firm, it is said, giving real estate security. Since then the firm have been struggling along, and although they had the cream of the trade, they found it almost impossible to make collections from builders and contractors.

J. Woolsey Shepard, attorney for the assignee, said the llabilities are between $400,000 and $500,000. The nominal assets are much larger, consisting of building material in the various yards, book accounts, securities, and a large amount of real estate in this city and lfrooklyn. The trouble was the result of the financial stringency.

Mr. Canda has been in business about forty years, part of the time in this city and part in the firm of Morton & Canda in Brooklyn.

John Gallagher filed a mechanics' lien yesterday against Canda & Kane for $1,548, for gravel furnished for use in the subways.

Charles E. Ray and Louis Kneisel, doing business as Bail & Ray, manufacturers of ladies' hats and bonnet frames at 201 Greene arrest, made an assignment yesterday to Isaac A. Isaacs. They had a factory at 301 Park avenue, Brooklyn. The business was established twenty-six years ago by Mr. Ray.

William F. Kobring, proprietor of a liquor salon at 2,258 Second avenue, made an assignment yesterday to Edward Michiling.

END OF THE COAL CREEK TROUBLE, Miners Go Back to Work and the Militia

Leave Fort Anderson. NASHVILLE, Oct. 9.-Two months ago 400 miners employed by operators at Coal Creek and Briceville, in Anderson county, refused to accept a reduction of ten per cent, in wages. mained idle. They continued to occupy houses belonging to the companies, and as they were out of employment they could not pay rent. The companies notified them a few days ago that they must pay, resume work, or vacate the houses. Some of the men went to work at once, and the remainder resumed their usual employment to-day, thus ending the strike. The companies agreed to reduce rents. The miners say their wives and children were sufering, and they could hold out no longer.

The State troops, who for more than twelve months have been guarding the convicts at Coal Creek to prevent their release by the free miners, were removed to-day and the stockade is left to the protection of civil guards. It is believed that the free miners, who have caused so much disturbance during the past two years, will not try again to set the convicts free. The troubles in Coal Creek mining regions have cost the lives of several soldiers and a number of miners, and the expense of maintaining troops at Fort Anderson has been more than $100,000. the houses. The Hartshorn shade roller factory at Har-The Hartshorn shade roller factory at Hartshorn seaumed work yesterday morning, and will be run four days a week. These three East Newark concerns give employment to 2,500 men, women, and girls.

There has been much suffering in Newark and its Hudson county suburbs since these and other big mills shut down, and the news of the reopening brought great crowds to the doors of the mills yesterday morning.

Strike of the Unemployed,

CINCINNATI, Oct. 9.-Five hundred unem ployed men in Covington, Ky., went on strike to day. Last Thursday the City Council and Board of Aldermen of Covington passed an Board of Aldermen of Covington passed an ordinance to employ 500 unemployed Covingtonians in a quarry that the city owned. A lot of picks and shovels were purchased, and yesterday morning the men showed up for work City officials were on hand to look after them, and each man was teld that he would be paid 50 cents a perch. By working ten hours they could earn $1.50 per day. The leaders struck and wanted $1.50 a day of eight hours. This would not be tolerated, and some of the men wanted to go to work anyhow, and the leaders interfered and the unemployed went out on a strike.

Receiver for the South Baltimore Car Works BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.-The South Baltimore Car Works Company has been placed in the hands of receivers, with assets of $617,000. The liabilities are said to be only $204,000. The liabilities are said to be only $204,000. The action was taken with the assent of the company. The company has been carrying a very large stock, but owing to the commercial depression could neither make sales nor collect old accounts. It is believed the receivers will soon be discharged and the company's credit recatablished.

Resuming Work.

TROY. Oct. 9 .- The Gilbert Car Works on Green Island resumed operations this morning after a shut down of six weeks under a receivership. Employment was given to nearly 300 men. The works are sure to run until fifty cars for the Lake Street Elevated road of Chicago have been completed.

Woolsey-De Roode.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 9.-The most brilliant wedding of the season, and of interest to social circles in New York and London, took place in Covington this evening. The bride was Mrs. Kate De Roode, daughter of the late W. W. Trimble of Covington, and the bridegroom Edward J. Woolsey of New York city. Mrs. De Roode is a handsome woman, cultivated and clever. She has spent much of her time in London, where she held receptions which were among the most brilliant events of the were among the most brilliant events of the season. The bridegroom is a Knickerbocker. His gifts to the bride were a magnificent tiara of diamonds, a diamond neeklace, and a superb brooch composed of diamonds, rubbes, sapphires, and omeralds. They are the family lewels of the Woolseys.

The ceremony was performed at the fine old family residence on Madison avenue, Covington. The lev. Gratten Noland of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church officiated, assisted by the Rev. Frank Woods Baker of St. Paul's Cincinnati.

The wedding was an exclusive home affair, attended by not more than 100 guests. The bride's gown was of creamy white satin, the front widths were velled with tulle, hand embroidered in gold thread, with narrow satin ribbons of pink reversed with gold effectively introduced. The train was satin with narrow plaiting around the bottom edge. The décoletté bodice was artistically trimmed in a similar manner. Her ornaments were superb diamonds and jewels.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolsey left for New York.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AND BAT-TERY BY FATHER MURPHY'S NIECE.

He Forced Her Out of the Dismissed Curate's House When Dispossessing Pather Murphy, Whose Friends Afterward Retook the Premises by Storm-Father Murphy's Credentials as an Irish Patriot.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 9.-People living near St. Joseph's Church witnessed an exciting scene this forenoon when the Rev. Dr. Sebastian Smith, rector of the church, and Janitor Matthew D. Young entered the house of the dismissed curate. Father Murphy, for the purpose of dispossessing him. The late assistant priest was not at home, having gone to consult some of the parishioners as to what course he should pursue. Dr. Smith found Miss Henrietta McManus, Father Murphy's niece and housekeeper, Mrs. James Rooney. and Mrs. John Shannon in the small parler. The junitor ordered the women to leave the house. When Miss McManus refused to go the two men seized her by the arm and forced her out. Miss McManus ran around to the rear of the house, threw herself on her knees on the stoop and begged for her clothing. Dr. Smith ordered the janitor to throw out her effects and those of Father Murphy. which he did. While this scene was being enacted fully 400 people stood on the sidewalk until dispersed by the police.

When Father Murphy returned Street Commissioner James Gibson secured a ladder and entered the house through a second story window. The fastenings on the doors and windows were unloosened, and the deposed priest and his niece were escorted back into the house by their admiring friends. When quiet was restored Father Murphy and his niece visited Justice Senior's Court, where the young woman preferred charges of assault and battery against Dr. Smith and the janitor. Both were arrested in the afternoon and reand Miss McManus returned to their house from the court, they received an old-fashioned ovation by the crowd of men, wemen and children who lined the sidewalks and perched in windows and stoops. A number of them handed Father Murphy various sums of money. The Rev. Dr. Smith visited the law office of Eugene Stevenson this afternoon to seek advice from his counsel as to instituting pro-

Gibson and others, whom he accuses of unlawfully taking possession of the house occupied by Father Murphy. Dr. Smith openly said this by Father Murphy. Dr. Smith openly said thic atternoon that Father Murphy was removed on charges of drunkenness and undue familiarity with women. He was asked:

"Dr. Smith, did you say that Miss McManus was the alleged niece of Father Murphy?"

"Well." Dr. Smith replied, "I said something like that, but it was only on hearsar."

Father Murphy has heard this assertion, and is seeking to obtain direct proof that Dr. Smith made it.

At a late hour hundreds of persons stood by the houses occupied by the two priests and took sides.

The Peabody Medical Institute, Boston, Mass. 334 YEAR.

As this renowned institution near approaches the completion of a third of a century of unparalleled success and merculness in the treatment of all nervous disorders, from whatever cause arising, it is fitting that the public should be informed why it has become fixed fact among the medical phenomena of this century, and why it wid remain so. The chief reason is the physicians supposed are qualified by training, education, remestness, and zeal, and peculiar genius, adoptation, and affection to this special department of pathology and thera-penties. With their treatment it will be wise for the Micted to bear in mind that there is no cause for de-pair or even drapondency.

In recognition of the pre-uninent skill of the chief consulting physician or the institute W. H. Parker, M. D., the Board of Officers of the National Medical Association, on Jan. 1, 1876, conferred upon him the gold and jewelled medal, accompanied by a series of flat-tering resolutions for the prize essay (The Science of Life or Self-preservation) on nervous maladies. The presentation was noticed at the time of its occurrence not only by the Boston press, but by all leading jour-nais throughout the country. William H. Parker, M. MAYNARD WILL BE ELECTED.

So. Says William R. Grace, Who Adds that the Anti-Saspers Won't Help film. That distinguished anti-snapper, Mr. William R. Grace, got back to town yesterday and declared it to be his unbiassed opinion that the Hon. Isaac H. Maynard would surely be elected Judge of the Court of Appeals. The anti-snap wickedness of Mr. Grace cropped out, of course, in the interview in which he made this assertion. "Mr. Grace," said the reporter who saw him at his office, "it has been said that Mr. Cord Meyer was nominated for Secretary of State to please the anti-spanners, and that when he please the anti-snappers, and that when he was nominated the anti-snappers united with the regular Democratic party."

The heavy eyebrows of the anti-snapper hung lower and his face clouded.

"To make me believe that the anti-snappers have united with the regulars," he said, you must show me that Mr. Fairchild, Mr. Coudert, Mr. Sheppard of Brooklyn, Mr. Locke of Buffallo, and other prominent men, actual lenders of the so-called anti-snappers, assented to the acts of the Convention. None of the gentlemen whom I have named, and no prominent leader of the anti-snappers, will stump the State to advocate the election of the ticket."

"And haven't the anti-snappers united with the regulars?" asked the reporter.

"Well," said the ex-Mayor, "so far as I can learn. Gen. Tracey, Cord Meyer, Daniel Lockwood, and Smith Weed's partner. Thomas N. Conway, were the alleged anti-snappers who united. If this is the basis of the report that there has been a union," he said, "then I can only say that Mr. Meyer never acted with the anti-snappers after the first meeting, when he advised me of his devotion to the Democratic machine. Mr. Tracey has never acted with us, and Mr. Lockwood would not represent us as a delegate to the Cheago Convenion. Smite Weed wouldn't take charge of the anti-snap movement in the northern part of the State." anti-snap movement in the northern part of anti-snap inovement in the northern part of the State."

Then Mir. Grace declared that the anti-snappers dissolved before the last election at the request of the National Democratic Committee. Mr. Grace said he was out of politics himself. He added that in his opinion there would be a good many stay-at-home voters, and that a good many people were not in sympathy with the regular Democratic organization. Finally he came to the question of the result of the election and said:

"There is no respectable ability in the Republican machine to control its own organization or make a success of its ticket at the polls. There is no organization worthy of the name opposed to Mr. Maynard. There will be no tidal wave, but Mr Maynard. There will be no tidal wave, but Mr Maynard will be elected. He was conspicuous for his strength at Saratoga.

The party behind him is well organized, and for that reason I think that aided by public anothy, the whole ticket will be elected. Mr. Cleveland and his friends at Washington have not requested the anti-snappers to oppose the machine in the State."

FOR POSTMASTER AT BINGHAMTON. Charles A. Hull, a Cleveland Democrat, Said to Have Been Selected.

BINGHAMTON, Oct. 9,-Authentic news came to this city to-day that Charles A. Hull would be appointed Postmaster, and that his nomination would be sent to the Senate soon. There has been a great strife for the office, and netitions of great length have been sent to the President by a dozen candidates, among whom vere James C. Truman, Pierre Cunningham, John J. Moses, and George F. O'Neil. The latter is the proprietor of the Daily Leader, and had the endorsement of the County Com-

Truman was the former Postmaster under Cleveland, but was not allowed to serve He is also the prote Charles Davis, ex-Deputy Collector of the Port of New York, and it was considered that he had a sure thing. Pierre W Cunningham was the leader of the anti-snapper Convention here, and he had the endorsement of that august body. John J. Moses is a relative of the Hon, William R. Grace.

Charles A. Huil is a thorough Cleveland Democrat and in entire sympathy with the Administration. He is at the head of the firm of Huil, Grummond & Co., cigar manufacturers, and was formerly a lawyer. His nomination will please the masses, but will cause bitter feeling among the politicians. As one Democrat expressed it: "His nomination will be a direct slap to the supporters of Senator Hill." The term of the incumbent, George N. Dunn, expired on March 8. Charles Davis, ex-Deputy Collector of the Port Fireshing, L. I., Oct. 9.—The Second Assembly District Convention of Queens county was held to-day at the Town Hall, Newtown. Samuel J. Searing, the present incumbent, was a candidate for renomination, and was beaten by ex-ludge John G. Schepper of Newtown. Searing's defeat is attributed to his having antagonized United States Senator Murphy. He was one of the four Assemblymen who voted for Congressman Bourke Cockratt. Genesee County-Thomas B. Tuttle of Lerry, Republican.

William M. Nelson of Dutchess county for Utica. Oct. 9 .- Henry J. Coggeshall was reominated for Senator in the Twenty-third istrict by the Republicans this afternoon. Bitypano, Oct. 9.—The Democratic Senatorial onventions for Eric county were held to-day and the following nominations made: Thirtieth district, the Hon. Matthias Endres; Thirty-first district, Dr. E. G. Waldruff.

Ex-Mayor Gleason's party held its Senate Convention in Long Island City last night. Mr. Gleason was nominated for Senator in the First district.

Founder Bradley for State Senator FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 9.-The Monmouth

County Republican Convention was held here to-day. James A. Bradley, the founder of Asbury Park, was nominated for State Senator; Matthias Woolley of Long Branch for Sheriff. and Peter Foreman of Millstone for County Clerk. The Law and Order League people, who were also holding a convention here to-day, endorsed this ticket:

Bradley's nomination was made amid wild cheers from all parts of the court room in which the convention was held. Mr. Bradley positively refused to accept the nomination for State Senator last week.

Ex-Lieut,-Cov. Jones to Be Nominated for Seastor. BINGHAMTON, Oct. 8.-The Democratic Senstorial Convention will be held in this city tomorrow, and it is understood that ex-Lieut. Gov. Jones will be the nominee. There is much opposition to Senator O'Connor, and it is thought by politicians that there is a good fighting chance to win. The bealth of Gen. Jones is much improved, and it is said that he will accept the nomination if tendered. MR. PLAIT IN FACETIOUS.

Up-country Republican Stateamen Sather at the Fifth Avenue Hotel,

The Fifth Avenue Hotel corridors last night ook on signs of life indicative of the opening of the campaign. The bosses from up the State sauntered in at intervals. There were Senator Saxton of Clyde, who came to represent B. H. Davis of the Twenty-eighth district at the State Committee meeting: Charles W. Hackett of Utica, who wants to be reflected Chairman of the Execuive Committee; Isaac V. Baker, Jr., of Comstock, who is always about when there is any fun in prospect; R. B. Odell of Newburgh, who wouldn't reject Mr. Hackett's job as Chairman of the Executive Committee; William Barnes of Albany, who is just around to look hand-some. L. H. Vall from Poughkoepsie was an wouldn't reject Mr. Hackett's job as Chairman of the Executive Committee: William Barnes of Albany, who is just around to look handsome. L. H. Vali from Poughkoepsie was another old timer.

To represent New York city there was Chairman William Brookfield of the State Committee, ex. Fostimaster Cornelius Van Cott, and Henry Grasse. Of course Mr. Platt was there, He drifted around from one to the other and looked happy. Mr. Platt's face was straight, and there wasn't a suspicion of a smile as he said to a reporter that he really didn't know what was going on.

"You know," he said, "there is no more machine politics in the Republican party of the State kicked off all methods known as machine methods at the Syracuse Convention. Everybody, you know, said before the Convention that there was a slate and that a ticket already arranged would be nominated. As you know, there was no slate. The ticket nominated was a surprise. Yes, the Republican party kicked out the machine.

There wasn't a twinkle in Mr. Platt's eye as he said it, or as he added that everything was harmonious and Mr. Bartlett would surely be elected Judge of the Court of Appeals.

The meeting of the Republican State Committee will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at headquarters. William Brookfield, who wants to retire from the chairmanship, and who would have retired if it hain't been for the Rick-up of John Sabine Smith and Jacob Patterson, will be reclected Chairman.

The committee has two vacancies to fill. One is that of the additional member who, it is ordered, shall be a colored man. Every colored Republican in the city of New York wants the phace. The man who wants it most of those who stand any chance of getting it is Jacob H. Simms, the police court lawyer. The Rev. J. R. R. Smith is on deck, too, and the Iriends of the man who doesn't win are likely to show their resentment.

The committee also has to elect a new Executive Committee will have to elect a Chairman. There are men who says that the methods of Mr. Hackett, the present Chairman s THEY HAVE IT IN FOR PATTERSON.

The John A. Logan Club Declares for Timothy D. Sullivan. The return of the John A. Logan Club last night from its day's outing at College Point urnished the statesmen of the east side with no end of gossip. As its name signifies, the organization was formed in the interests of organization was formed in the interests of the Republican party, its founders being the redoubtable Johnny Brodsky and the brothers Engel, Samuel and Martin. The club was a nower in "do ate." an ia the last Presidential election made an excellent showing for Ben-jamin Harrison. Great was the surprise, therefore, of the east-side voters to see an illuminated transparency bearing this legend and borne by the Engel brothers:

Martin Engel was asked to explain the cause of the club's secession from the Republican party. To a reporter he said:

We have taken this step only after mature deliberation. Two years ago, when Jake Patterson was a bigger man than he is to day, we went to him and asked his aid in securing the nomination of Mr. Brodsky to the Assembly from this district. He put us off with a curt refusal. A couple of weeks ago Mr. Platt sent one of

"A couple of weeks ago Mr. Platt sent one of his confidential men to me to inquire whether we would support Patterson for Senator if he should get the nomination. This time the curt refusal came from us. I understand that he will have the nomination nevertheless Well let him. He will be buried under an avalanche of ballots. We are out for Tim Sullivan, and he'll get the vote of every man Jack of us." Belated efforts are being made to secure for the A. P. Its chief strength comes not from native Americans, but from Canadians, Englishmen, and "far-down" Irishmen. The organization is strong only in the States, or counties of States, in easy communication with the Canadian border.

Politics in the Fifteenth District.

James E. Meagher is the slated Tammany Hall candidate for the Assembly in the Fifteenth district to succeed Louis Drypolcher, the has represented the district since 1890. John H. Scheurer, who was the County Democracy and anti-snap candidate for the Assembly last year, and who boined Tammany Hall in December, has passed the examination for appointment on the police force. Andrew J. Hussey, who unsuccessfully ran for Aiderman in this district in 1801 and again in 1892, is this year a candidate for Assemblyman. The Fifteenth district expects to have Joseph H. Stiner, a veteran on the Tammany General Committee there, nominated for Civil Court Judge. In 1875, 1881, and 1887 the nomination went to the Thirteenth district, which, with the Fifteenth, makes up most of the judicial district. Stiner is a Grand Army Democrat. John H. This is a so-called off year in politics, and it is expected that there will be the usual number of stay-at-homes. The party leaders are going to do all they can to get out the voters, and the district leaders will be expected to do the work. The leader who falls to register within one or two per cent. of the customary percent-age will be called to account.
